

A THREE PART WEBINAR

COMMUNITY BASED RESEARCH

You are invited to a free three part webinar series exploring research with real impact :

FEB 10 Part 1. Community Based Research

FEB 17 Part 2. Knowledge Mobilization

FEB 24 Part 3. Building Successful Partnerships

SPONSORED BY

Future Skills
Centre

Centre des
Compétences futures

IN COLLABORATION WITH

RESEARCH IMPACT CANADA

RÉSEAU IMPACT
RECHERCHE
CANADA

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT
& RESEARCH CENTRE

University of Regina

CIPSRT

Canadian Institute for Public Safety
Research and Treatment

ICRTSP

Institut canadien de recherche et de traitement en sécurité publique

PART 1

FEBRUARY 10

12:00-1:00 SASKATCHEWAN TIME

WHAT IS COMMUNITY BASED RESEARCH?

This webinar is designed for not-for-profit or public sector groups wishing to partner with researchers at a university, or organizations with previous partnerships that hope to have more impactful outcomes from future collaborations with post-secondary education partners. The goal of the session is to provide a better understanding of the benefits of partnering with universities and how to create research relationships that lead to impactful outcomes.

Register Here

SPEAKER

Lynn Gidluck

UNIVERSITY OF REGINA

Dr. Lynn Gidluck leads the University of Regina's Community Engagement and Research Centre. As Community Director for CERC, she facilitates community-campus partnerships, funds and directs community based research projects, and develops student experiential learning opportunities. She serves on the management committee for Community Campus Engage Canada, a national organization that fosters equitable community-campus Partnerships and supports a growing network across Canada that includes post-secondary and community partners. She is co-lead for the western hub (<http://fundersinthewest.ca>) of the SSHRC-funded Canadian Philanthropy Partnership Network which is evaluating the role, actions and impact of Canadian grantmaking foundations.

SPEAKER

Candace Giblett

REGINA FIRE & PROTECTIVE SERVICES

Candace Giblett is one of two Public Education Officers with Regina Fire & Protective Services. Her duties include designing and developing fire and life safety education programs that correlate directly to the specific risks demonstrated by the City of Regina's community members. This includes data analysis of risks in the community, development of safety programming, identifying community partnerships for the successful delivery of programs, coordination of special risk interventions, evaluation and strategic planning. Prior to joining the department she worked for the Ministry of Social Services and various 'youth at risk' community agencies. Candace has earned two Bachelor degrees from the University of Regina, majoring in Psychology and Social Work. In the seventeen years since joining the fire department, she has obtained the NFPA 1035- Level I, Juvenile Firesetter Intervention Specialist Level I and II and ICS Level 100 and 200.

SPEAKER

Lynne Fernandez

MANITOBA RESEARCH ALLIANCE

Lynne Fernandez is involved with the Manitoba Research Alliance (MRA), an academic/community alliance that holds a SSHRC partnership grant. This is the MRA's 4th SSHRC grant. Each one has had a strong focus on community economic development (CED). Lynne has a Master's in economics, with a focus on government policy and CED.

SPEAKER

Jody Linklater

CLEAN COMMUNITIES CORPORATION
INDIGENOUS YOUTHBUILD CANADA

Jody Linklater is a member of the Nisichawayasihk Cree Nation in Manitoba. He is the CEO of Clean Communities Corporation and works with leading global partners to create and implement community prosperity plans unique to individual communities. He is also the founder of Indigenous YouthBuild Canada—a national job-readiness program. He is on the board of directors for the Manitoba Research Alliance and the National Board for Climate Change with Indigenous Services Canada.

PART 2

FEBRUARY 17

12:00-1:00 SASKATCHEWAN TIME

WHAT IS KNOWLEDGE MOBILIZATION?

This webinar is targeted to faculty, instructors, staff and students currently or hoping to do community-based research. A presentation introducing the basics of Knowledge Mobilization (KM) followed by a panel of senior academics, with successful research careers, will share their strategies for effective KM and speak to how to make non-traditional outputs and efforts “count” when it comes time for tenure and promotion. Together with their community partners, we will provide the audience with ideas about how to make KM plans more than a section on a grant application.

Register Here

SPEAKER

Emilie Kossick

CIPSRT

Emilie Kossick (MA, BSc, KTP), Canadian Institute for Public Safety Research and Treatment (CIPSRT), University of Regina. Emilie is the Knowledge Manager for CIPSRT. CIPSRT is funded by Public Safety Canada and it acts as a Knowledge Hub to mobilize research on the mental health and well-being of Canadian public safety personnel.

SPEAKER

Dr. Joy MacDermid

WESTERN UNIVERSITY

Dr. Joy MacDermid is a clinical epidemiologist, physiotherapist, and Professor of Physical Therapy at Western University. She is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada, holds a Canada Research Chair in MSK Health Outcomes and Knowledge Translation, and the Dr. James Roth Chair in Musculoskeletal Measurement and Knowledge Translation. Dr. MacDermid's research focuses on musculoskeletal health, implementation science, orthopedic surgery and rehabilitation interventions, sex and gender as determinants of musculoskeletal and work health, and high-risk populations (e.g., firefighters). Her research integrates a biopsychosocial perspective on the determinants of health, design of interventions, and measurement of outcomes.

SPEAKER

Dr. Charles Z. Levkoe

LAKEHEAD UNIVERSITY

Dr. Charles Levkoe is an Associate Professor and Canada Research Chair in Sustainable Food Systems in the Department of Health Sciences at Lakehead University. Working directly with a range of scholars and community-based practitioners across North America and Europe, Levkoe studies the evolution of the broader collective of social movement networks which views the right to food as a central component of more sustainable futures. Mobilizing existing partnerships, he integrates his research and teaching through community engaged learning pedagogies and supports students, community partners and scholars to be actively involved in knowledge cogeneration.

SPEAKER

Dr. Nadine Changfoot

TRENT UNIVERSITY

Dr. Changfoot is an Associate Professor of Political Studies at Trent University. She is a Senior Research Associate of Re·Vision: The Centre of Art and Social Justice at the University of Guelph which engages in collaborative, participatory research with diverse arts, environmental, disability, aging, and healthcare communities. Her research includes: methodology and ethics of arts-based research creation for multimedia storytelling and presentation and cross-sectoral partnerships (state, non-profit sector) for influence and environmental stewardship. She has published widely in feminist, philosophy, qualitative methodology, and community development journals.

PART 3

FEBRUARY 24

12:00-1:00 SASKATCHEWAN TIME

BUILDING SUCCESSFUL PARTNERSHIPS

This webinar will bring the target audiences from the first two webinars together and focus on the key steps to building successful research partnerships. University researchers and their community partners will share their experience – what worked, what they had to learn to make things more successful, tips for others looking to do community involved research.

Register Here

MODERATOR

Dr. Shannon Dea

UNIVERSITY OF REGINA

Dr. Shannon Dea is Dean of Arts and Professor of Philosophy and Classics at the University of Regina. She researches and teaches about academic freedom, harm reduction, sex and gender, pedagogy, equity, and the history of philosophy. Shannon regularly engages with the public and the media on topics ranging from freedom of expression to social justice issues, and has worked closely with community agencies aimed at supporting some of society's most vulnerable members. She is a recipient of the Ontario Women's Directorate's Leading Women Building Communities Award.

SPEAKER

Michael Johnny

YORK UNIVERSITY

As Manager of Knowledge Mobilization at York University, Michael Johnny is passionate about his work. One of his many rolls is to connect researchers, students, policy professionals, community organizations, entrepreneurs and industry leaders to collaborate: maximizing the social, economic and environmental impacts of research for public good.

SPEAKER

Yvonne Hanson

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN

Yvonne Hanson is Provincial Network Manager at Primary and Integrated Healthcare and Innovations Network at the University of Saskatchewan. She has worked in management, facilitation and program development for a host of not-for-profit groups and university-based organizations. She has collaborated on a number of community-based and participatory research projects in the areas of gender and diversity/equity, health, education, environment, justice and social policy analysis in Canada and abroad.

SPEAKER

Sgt. Casey Ward

REGINA POLICE SERVICE

Sgt. Casey Ward works for the Regina Police Service and serves as the president of the Saskatchewan Federation of Police officers. He also serves as a member of the public safety steering committee for the Canadian Institute of Public Safety Research and Treatment. Sgt. Ward has collaborated on several projects aimed at improving the health and well-being of public safety personnel.

SPEAKER

Dr. R. Nicholas Carleton

UNIVERSITY OF REGINA

CIPSRT

Dr. R. Nicholas Carleton is a Professor of Clinical Psychology at the University of Regina, a registered doctoral clinical psychologist in Saskatchewan, and is currently serving as the Scientific Director for the Canadian Institute for Public Safety Research and Treatment. He has received several prestigious awards, recognitions, grants, and government contracts. He has recently been inducted as a Member of the Royal Society of Canada's College of New Scholars, Artists and Scientists, and as a Fellow of the Canadian Academy of Health Sciences. In 2020 Dr. Carleton received the Royal-Mach-Gaensslen Prize for Mental Health Research.